Session # 7-3

Speaker Biographies:

Bill Dowell

Bill Dowell joined Brown County in Aug 2003 as Director of Facility Management. His duties include overseeing design and construction of new facilities and implementation of energy improvements and other green building initiatives. Present projects include two new LEED Silver buildings, a 100,000 SQFT, Community Treatment Center and a 14,000 SQFT, 911 Communications Center. Both buildings will be on line 4th quarter 2009. Prior to joining Brown County, Mr. Dowell worked 25 years in facility management positions in the private sector. He earned a BSIE from the University of Tennessee and an MBA from TCU and is a Certified Facility Manager.

Marty Anderson

Marty Anderson is a former Alderman for the City of Marshfield. During his time on the Council, Anderson was an advocate for implementing sustainability into municipal planning and he participated in the initial evaluation of officially adopting the Natural Step.

He currently serves as the Chair for the Sustainable Marshfield Committee and is the designated Energy Independence coordinator for developing a 25 by 25 plan for the Governor's office of energy independence. He has presented locally and in communities throughout Central Wisconsin. In addition, he had the opportunity to be a part of a panel discussion on eco-municipalities at the 2008 Midwest Renewable Energy Fair.
